login with password. If any os is not enabled for a remote login, a key is required and only the ssh public key can be used to login without password. I have a linux box with CentOS 5.x, 6.x or 7.x.

I want to login to it without password. I have to login it via telnet. For CentOS 6.x and 7.x is there any option to enable a passwordless login? A: You can set up ssh to try only a specific key without a password:

Generate an SSH keypair: ssh-
