Undead are wandering on the roads, some of them are the dead from the real life and some are a monster that has come into the real world but not dead. This kind of world is called 'the Midnight City', a place where zombie and monsters live together. In this world, there are those who live only to kill the monsters, and there are those who work only to protect the peace of 'the Midnight City'. The 'Lucky Gunner' is a section that protects this peace. Their mission is to fight monsters and those like them. The 'Lucky Gunner' is a name given by the protagonist, who is a kid with a gun. He has a difficult time because he has no weapon, but he is a machine with a gun, has no fear. A lot of monsters have appeared at the same time in the same city, so he has to fight all of them. In the battle, monsters, bullets, bugs, bricks, flowers, stars, and the camera itself become the tools, and in the fight, he fights while looking at the camera. A lot of monsters are watching him from the shadows, so whether he wins or loses, the memory that will be made is left to the end. Your weapon will kill the enemy, but this will eliminate you, so please make a good decision. Enjoy the screen, and have fun.

The 'Lucky Gunner' The Screen Design By Enebi After the introduction of the main character, his concept was completed, so I started to make the screen design with a clear reference. The gun frame by Enebi The weapon itself was made in a Box, and its frame and color and all the details were made in the mask. The gun itself can be hidden so that you can change the handgun to the coolest one. Background I tried to use a dark gun as a background, and I used the 'scenerio' to make the shadow and the highlight more even. The pattern is cool and has a design, it is more pleasant to look at. The moon is based on the space logo, which also has a round shape, and I used a special method that I created.

Let's eat! The hero's hair was designed with a deformed snake, and my design of a weapon was added to the bullet, which gave the bullet a stylish appearance, which looked very nice. c9d1549cdd

New Features in "Asdivine Hearts II" Hello everyone! I've decided to go ahead with the sequel to my old classic, Asdivine Hearts! I've put a lot of work into this game over the past couple of years. I won't be able to make an official opening for the game until the next year, but I've decided to make an opening video now!

This video is a reminder to all of you to request your copy of the original Asdivine Hearts now, so I can send it to you! Check out the link above to learn more! Thank you all for your support in the past and watch for future work from me! Don't forget to check out my social media channels: Twitter: (Subscribe to my Twitter so you never miss an upload!) Instagram: Download Asdivine Hearts from Itch.io: Future updates of Asdivine Hearts will be uploaded here as well! Thank you for your support! Blue Stalkers is a First Person Shooter game, which brings together Survival, Open-world, and Third Person Shooter, all in one game. This new gameplay hybrid, coupled with game mechanics inspired by survival-horror and GTA games, will immerse you into this wild, truly terrifying adventure. Featuring dynamic AI, focused attention, and a true survival atmosphere, Blue Stalkers puts you in control of the whole game experience. What's new in Realmstone:

The base of this universe is a broken rock far, far from home. Alien races called Assurcs explore. Combined. Confused. Chasing fame and fortune. They have found the Sky. A source of light, a rendezvous point for a universe of beings. Some to fight. Others simply to sit. This is a world where war is not a dead thing of the past. Stop Halo A universe with a future. Rebelling against the Assurcs rule leads only to war. Traitor Starscorp, controlled by the Assurcs, must keep all population under control. The Assurcs send several ships to investigate and destroy the rebellion. Fire the Shot You are part of the crew on a powerful starship. Your business is to protect the population of the planet. Sparks and Boats You are the captain of a spaceship trapped in the Flaming Cliffs, a system far from the conflicts, but not really safe. Where the Seas Made Us You are the captain of a ship that is being attacked by voidships. This is no ordinary voidship. It belongs to the enemy faction. The Golden Aspects This mercenary vessel is under the orders of a large ship and it is racing against time to go after the "Golden Aspects". They are worth a fortune, but they are hard to find. Rebel to the Isolation This unit is traveling to the planet where the rebellion began. It has no choice, but to continue the fight to win a better life and a world away from the assurcs. A Dance in the Sky You are part of a team of five soldiers. Your mission is to capture the Sky, destroy it and retrieve technological secrets. You must prevent the war to start. The Volume of the Sky You are part of a team of five soldiers. Your mission is to capture the Sky, destroy it and retrieve technological secrets. You must prevent the war to start. The Reveries The Sky is damaged. You're in the middle of the battlefield. Your crew are scattered. There will be help, but it will never come in time, it's too late. You have to save your ship. You're in the depths of space. Legacy of the Skies You are a scientist who wants

The classic Konami game franchise including the popular Gradius, Wizball and the classic Space Invaders is back with this completely new game for the iPhone. In Gradius III you can get a quick sense of the game's visual style, but it's only until you start to play that you get a good sense of what this port is capable of. But does this new port bring all the classic Gradius fun to iPhone, and are there any new additions to the game? Let's find out! What's New in Gradius III? The graphics are enhanced with some 2D pixel art replacing the original 3D models. There are also some new skins available that give the game a darker, more metal feeling. The most notable change to the game is the addition of the first ever main theme music to appear in a Gradius title since Gradius II for the Super Nintendo. This is the theme used in the arcade versions of Gradius II and 3, as well as the original Gradius. The main idea behind these songs is that the music will fit the atmosphere and general theme of the game, while still evoking the original arcade tunes. Also the music has a more relaxing sound for the more difficult stages. It's worth checking out the game sound effects as well. They are almost identical to Gradius II, with some minor variations here and there. It should also be noted that there isn't much gameplay difference between Gradius III and Gradius II. The original Super NES Gradius II was ported in 1990 so there's no need to worry about any gameplay changes. Also while this game uses the same 320x240 screen as the original, this port also has the option to play at the new 320x240x2 resolution. Gradius III's price is currently $0.99 USD, and the game is 25% off for the first weekend of release. Release Date & Additional Features The game ships on June 27, 2011, and will be available on the App Store as well as on Google Play for Android users. It will cost $0.99 USD. If you are planning on purchasing the game, I strongly recommend that you download the free demo available on the game's App Store and Google Play. There is also a demo available for the iOS version. Below is a summary of the features included in this game: • 120 levels (the same as Gradius II
