In the fall of 2010, writer Jackson Publick moved from his post as co-executive producer to executive producer. He is also under contract to play the role of Clark Kent in the Smallville spinoff series Smallville. Set in a \"typical American small town,\" the universe Smallville began in Smallville, Kansas. The show revolves around high school student Clark Kent, who discovers that he is actually an alien Kal-El, the son of fellow high school senior Martha Kent and her husband, science professor Jonathan Luthor. When Clark returned home after being sent to Earth from his home planet of Krypton, something went awry; in an attempt to save his planet, he was sent to Earth. Discovering his unusual powers, Clark begins his new journey to discover the secret of his origins. The fifth season of West Wing , began in September 1999 and has been running almost non-stop ever since. All seven seasons have been available on cable television since that time, while DVDs were released for the entire series. Created by Peter Segal, this hit series follows the adventures of a young (for the time) Clark Kent in the small town of Smallville, Kansas. These adventures were accompanied by the familiar faces of his friends and mentors, Jonathan and Martha Kent, and Pete Ross. The show follows Clark's early years, and early encounters with some of his Kryptonite-like enemies in Metropolis, the capital of his home town. My personal favorite show from the last few years is Suits, whose 17 seasons ended in May 2015, but who knows when the cast will come back? I certainly hope it doesn't take the writers that long to come up with a season to wrap things up.
